Ag Club Barnwarming Crowns Guest Queen

The 1960 Ag Club and Colhecon Barnwarming on Oct. 28 was high-lighted when Chuck Gillis, president of the Ag Club, crowned Martha Guest queen. Martha was escorted to her throne by Larry Brown followed by three attendants and their escorts who were Betty Johnson escorted by Tom Miller, Elta Lee Gray escorted by Ron Cain, and Marilyn Larson escorted by Gary Frueh.

A tunnel of hay formed the entrance to the dance floor, and bales of hay, fall leaves and colored lights gave an autumn atmosphere. Master of ceremonies Don Burgher presented the program prepared by Colhecon.

Program Given

Vance Monday's band from

Mount Ayr, Iowa provided music for dancing.

Sandwiches, doughnuts, and cider were served. Members of the program committee were: Don Burgher, Tom Miller, Larry Timble, Edwina Starks, Patsy Robertson, and Norma Humsickers.

Refreshment committee consisted of: Tom Miller, Karen Ruse, Phyllis Len, Cleanne Ferguson, Patty Tryon, Dena Lytle.

Sponsors were Miss Louise Lovell, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Houghton, Mr. and Mrs. John Bilks, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Wright and Miss Thelma Long.

SCA Students Are Presenting Devotions

The Student Christian Association is having daily devotions, Monday through Friday, from 12:30 to 12:45 p.m. in the Union Chapel. Devotions began Monday, October 31, and will continue throughout the year.

All students and faculty members are welcome to attend.

College students are in charge of the services. Joyce Harr and Carol Fankhauser, juniors, are co-chairmen of the devotional program.

Freshman Class Elects Officers

Don Daniels, newly-elected president of the Freshman class is from Norcross, Georgia. He is majoring in Industrial Arts and minoring in math. When asked if he had any plans for his career as president of the class, he replied, "I would like to see an even better spirit within the class than has been displayed in previous classes."

The new vice-president, Tom Earp, is from Kansas City, Missouri. Tom is majoring in history and minoring in speech. Tennis is one of his favorite sports. "We have a real swell freshman class with many leaders in it. We already have done more thus far than any other freshman class in previous years," says Tom.

Wickie Jackson, secretary, is from St. Joseph, Mo. Wickie is majoring in English. When asked how she likes it here she replied, "I just love it. The campus is so friendly."

The treasurer, Richard Cornelison, is a resident here in Maryville. He is covering a double major—physical education and business. His favorite sport is football. He is truly optimistic over the present year and is really putting forth some effort to do a "good job."

All the officers wish to extend their thanks to the Freshman class for giving them the privilege of holding such important offices.

"We will do our best."

Next semester the freshman English classes will use a new reading book, THE TYPES OF LITERATURE, by Connolly.

Student Teachers' Seminars Announce Remaining Schedule

A tentative schedule has been set for the remaining seminars for student teachers to be held in the Horace Mann auditorium.

While student teachers are expected to attend all seminars; attendance at the November 17 seminar (Time: 3:00) is required.

At this time, Dr. Lucile Lindberg of Queens College, Flushing, New York, will address the student teachers to be followed by meetings of study groups.

Schedule:

1. Time: Thursday, November 10, 4:00 P.M.
Topic: Self-Evaluation of Student Teaching
2. Time: Thursday, November 17, 3:00 P.M.
Topic: Workshop for Student Teachers
3. Time: Thursday, December 8, 4:00 P.M.
Topic: Common Mistakes in Teaching
4. Time: Thursday, January 12, 4:00 P.M.
Topic: Final Evaluation of Student Teaching

'Man Comes to Dinner' Has Final Rehearsals

The Man Who Came to Dinner, the first event of the 1960-61 Drama Department, is entering the final two weeks of polishing rehearsals. This week the cast will rehearse in dress and costume. Next week will be devoted to dress rehearsal plus make-up.

Tower Announces Sales Campaign

An advance sales campaign for the 1961 TOWER will be conducted from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. November 14-17 in the Bearcat Den.

A portion of the yearbook price is taken out of the student registration fee each semester.

In addition to this, the rate is: enrolled in summer school and following two semesters—free; enrolled two semesters—60c; enrolled in summer school and one semester—$1.20; enrolled one semester—$1.80; enrolled summer school—$2.40; not in school—$3.00.

Tower Editor Dee Mark states: "The only way students can be assured of receiving a 1961 TOWER is to sign up at the booth in the den during this sales campaign."

Foundation Reports On File in the Library

Reports from the charitable foundations are now on file in the Reference Room of the library and are available for student use.

According to Miss Palling, Reference Room librarian, the library receives reports from several different foundations.

The play by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman will be presented November 17 and 18 in the main auditorium of the Administration Building. Starring in the lead roles are Marguerite Donaldson and Richard Fetterer.

Whiteside Breaks Hip

The play opens with Sheridan Whiteside (Richard Fetterer) having dined at the home of the Stanleys. While visiting he slips on their doorstep and breaks his hip.

When Maggie (Marguerite Donaldson), Whiteside's secretary, falls in love with the reporter Bert Jefferson (Jerry Durlam), Whiteside summons a famous actress named Lorraine (Marilyn Gillis) to win the affections of the young reporter.

Maggie, knowing Lorraine's capabilities, enlists the aid of a clever impersonator to imitate Lorraine's husband-to-be via the telephone. The impersonator instructs Lorraine to return and marry him. When the actress discovers the scheme, trouble begins.

Confusion Reigns

Ex-convicts, enormous telephone bills, domesticated penguins, cockroaches, and a mummy case complete the confusion that reigns in the Stanley household.

Other students selected to participate in the play are as follows: Kent Binns, Richard Stanley; Dennis Rhodes, John; Jack Lasley, Mr. Stanley; Allen Seifert, Dr. Bradley.

Robert Sandmaier, Professor Metz; Dick Shipley, first convict; Jerry Harmsan, second convict; Perry Spies, third convict.

Max Buckner, Mr. Baker; Dennis Karstan, expressman; Greg Gunther, Sandy; Walt Tibken, Beverly Carlton; Gary Barber, Wescott.

Bob Côtter, first radio technician; Ronnie King, second radio technician; John Quastler, Banjo; Dolleta Burrell, Mrs. Earnest W. Stanley.

Marceline Latham, Miss Preen; Pat Dunham, Sarah the cook; Jean Myers, Mrs. Dexter; Marilyn Zbierski, Mrs. McCutcheon; and Gaye Laughery, Harriet Stanley.

Strolling on Thin Ice—Splash!!

Have you ever wondered who the Stroller is?

This controversial, anonymous figure has shadowed the campus with notable witticisms since his appearance in 1918. The Stroller, writing in an editorial capacity, has done everything from sticking his/her neck out—to cutting his/her own throat.

Pulls No Punches

The Stroller writes about anything, or anyone, and often he gets into trouble. For instance once in 1939 the Stroller and one of the campus frats carried on quite a heated battle because the Stroller had printed a joke he'd overheard concerning the members.

But in anonymity there's safety for the Stroller. Because of this lack of identity the Stroller has been able to keep his nose-for-news from getting flattened on many occasions.

The Stroller, though cunning and mysterious, is really a very versatile individual. His/her columns range from light humor to dead seriousness. He is a school tradition—a mouth-piece for the student body.

Letters Welcomed

The Stroller realizes that sometimes a member of the student body may disagree with a column he has written. In that case it should be known that the Northwest Missourian welcomes and encourages student letters.

The experienced Stroller wishes to make one comment: the writer should be careful to differentiate between opinion and fact when dealing with controversial matters. Opinions are warmly received, but they should be stated as such.

Noticed An Offensive Odor??

The word "cheater" smells with dishonesty.

A person caught cheating is looked down upon by friends and relatives alike. Still the urge to cheat stirs in the average student. Why?—no one knows. Maybe it's the tenseness of a student when he's taking a test or the drive to make his grades—anyway he or she can.

Ever since your grade school days you've heard, "When you cheat, you're only hurting yourself." This very true statement is hard for many to realize. But it's a realization that every student has to face up to in order to be honest with himself.

Be Fair to Your Employer

Moreover, you're not being fair with your future employer if you display someone else's degree in order to secure a position. Sure, the degree has your name on it, but it was someone else's knowledge and hard study that put it there.

The next time your eyes have a tendency to wander during an exam, consider the following consequences:

You are being dishonest to yourself, your teacher, your family, and your future employer. You are liable for expellment from a class, and this is a permanent stain on your college record.

Serving Your Profession??

One may carry a good thing too far, but on the other hand as a prospective teacher and community leader—it is a good idea to look into a few of the campus activities—one should be an active member in organizations that will promote education.

Serve Your School

One should do his profession justice by serving his school and keeping up-to-date on new classroom techniques.

For secondary majors there are departmental organizations that need support. These associations will keep one up with current trends in his respective field. There are similar organizations for elementary education majors.

Every prospective teacher should be a member in good standing of his state's education association. It is equally important to be a member of the national organization.

Employer Notes Activities

When one goes to apply for a teaching position, the prospective employer is interested in what professional organizations one participates.

As the Stroller leisurely ambled across one of our campus streets, she heard a loud roar and glanced up to see . . . that's right . . . a large sinister car bearing down on her with hungry grill jaws wide open! Terrified, she threw her books up in the air and leaped to the curb—just in time! Whew! At this rate, the Stroller thinks there won't BE any pedestrians to annoy the collegiate hot rodders soon.

Enjoys Records

The Stroller has certainly enjoyed the dinner music the Union diners are being serenaded with recently. He loves to chew in 6/8 time. Keep up the good work, Union Board! Perhaps a den telephone for the collegiates next? It would be a welcome addition!

"OOOOh, mah achin' brain!" The Stroller's eavesdropping caught this common phrase often this past week. Whotsa mattuh? Too much last minute cramming? Tsk. Tsk.

The Stroller advises the collegiates to watch out for his old

Dr. Dreps Announces Eight Foreign Students

Dr. Joseph Dreps head of the Foreign Language Department has announced that we have eight students from foreign lands on our campus this year.

They are Parviz Adib, 20, who is a sophomore. He has attended Coffeyville College in Kansas and is majoring in pre-engineering.

Mohammed Jafarian, 22, is a senior. He has attended Coffeyville College in Kansas and is working for a pre-medical major with a chemistry minor.

Peter Lee, 27, is a senior. He has attended Trenton Junior College in Missouri and has a double major, business and economics.

Nurettin Uzuroglu, 24, is a sophomore. He has attended the University of Nebraska and is majoring in political science, with an English minor.

Yuan Loong Wu, 20, is a freshman. He is majoring in chemistry and has a biology minor.

Alan Yuan, 25, is a junior. He has attended Southern University of Illinois in Carbondale, Illinois. He has an education major and a math minor.

Clemintina Rivas, 19, is a junior. She has attended the Faculty of Humanities in Uruguay and has a double major of Spanish and French.

Christa Newelra, 19, a second semester freshman. She has a double major of Spanish and French and in the future plans to teach in the United States.

Students Display Class Art Work

An exhibition of college class art work will be held in the Lounge-Gallery of the Department of Fine Arts in the Administration Building from November 7 to the 30.

This exhibition will emphasize various techniques and methods. It will consist of the finished products and the tools used to create them.

The Lounge-Gallery is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. The public is welcome to come in and view each of these exhibitions according to Mr. Charles L. Johnson, fine arts department.

buddy driving the little green bug.

The Stroller has heard there has been an unexpected stir on campus with regard to his column last week . . .

But after all—students do have rights . . . Students have rights???

Book Club to Meet In Lakeview Room

The Book club will meet Monday evening (8:00), November 14, in the Lakeview Room of the Union.

Debaters Attend Meet At Omaha University

Nine speech students from the College and their teacher, Mr. George Hinshaw, attended the kick-off debate and discussion tournament at Omaha University November 4 and 5.

Who Was That Knight I Saw You Last With?

Recently I have been immersed, so to speak, in a jolly little course of English Literature, commonly referred to by members of the class as "englit." (1) One learns such things as the renovation of old suits of armour (2) for the purpose of making can-openers out of them, for this is a class truly related to life's needs. (3)

Anyway, I have been thinking (4) about these Knights (5) lately, and have begun to believe that we should all get together and bring chivalry (6) back.

Quest Kids

It would work out something like this: all male members of the campus would be sent out on quests for something.

In this modern world, we should require them to obtain something useful, for instance, class notes on all subjects. (8)

In this way we women, fragile creatures that we are, could remain in the castle—er, dorm—and be delicate and lovely (9) until the Knights arrived with the notes. Then we would all join in feasting and jousting which, I undersand, is what all jolly old Knights and ladies liked to do the most, to say the least.

Constructive Action

After the feast we would all pursue individual interests, like slaying dragons, or sticking pins into toy models (10) of professors, or developing an intrigue with a giant of some sort—which was, of course, what anybody who was anybody had to do sooner or later in those days to maintain their (11) prestige at court.

So would I modify our busy world and return to the blissful days of yore, when courtesy was king and all stories ended happily ever after.

Editor's notes:

- (1) Before the test on the late middle early middle ages, that is.
- (2) Except those who are making new suits of amour.
- (3) Experimental data empirically gathered indicates this is an amphigory.
- (4) Oh, yeah!
- (5) The leading family of Mishatonka, Neb.
- (6) I still like a Dodge better than these GM cars. (7)
- (7) For "GM" in footnote 6, read Ford. My brother-in-law sells chivalrys.
- (8) Class notes are words which pass from the professor's notebook to the student's paper without going through the brain.
- (9) Lonely in most versions.
- (10) Speaking of model professors . . .
- (11) His His, dope! This here student ain't got no grammar. (12)
- (12) Author: So the old lady's dead! Don't bring my family into this!

Blocked Kick Saves 'Cats 16-13 Victory

By virtue of a 16-13 win over the Springfield Bears Saturday night, Coach Earl Baker's Northwest State College Bearcats are assured of the winningest season since 1952 no matter how their final game turns out Saturday against the visiting Warrensburg Mules in Memorial Stadium.

While the Bearcats had a safe lead at 16-13 in the fateful waning minutes of the game, it was George Weed, veteran tackle, who actually iced the game for the Bearcats.

The Bears in a frenzied drill that stalled about 12 yards short of the goal elected to try a field goal.

Weed drove in and blocked the try and Maryville had reversed the trend of the last two games that were lost in late play.

Joe Smith, Maryville half-back, scored first for the Bearcats in the first quarter, sprinting 12 yards to cap a 42-yard drive. The extra point was blocked.

Late in the first period, Springfield's Sam Claston scampered 88 yards for a touchdown and Ron Bloom ran the extra point.

The final Maryville score came in the third period when Holiday was trapped in the end zone for a safety.

Ed Atkins

Jim Halloran

BEARCAT SWIMMERS—Row 1 (kneeling) Dennis Bean and Lloyd Nelson; Row 2—Jim McCoy, Chuck Sanders, Bob McCoy, Larry Karsten, and Jim Halloran; Row 3—Hal Gentry, Scott Marriott, Tony Williams, and Ed Atkins; Row 4—Coach Bensusan, Marty Fischer, Sid Gurtiza, and Rich Kasperson. Nelson and Williams are no longer with the team. Kasperson and Karsten will act as co-captains for the 1960-61 season.

Practice Underway For Bearcat Wrestlers

While football is the main sport of interest right now few people are thinking about wrestling except the wrestlers themselves. Under Coach Peterson, the team has had very successful seasons and they are hoping for another good year.

With the rough schedule that they have, some of the men have been working out on their own concentrating on weight work.

This year there are 4 returning lettermen: Ralph Messerli, a 137 lb. junior; Ron Belts, a 130 lb. sophomore; Dave Moore, a 157 lb. sophomore; and Larry Timmerman, a 167 lb. junior.

The team's first match is December 9, with Parsons College.

Tanker—Jim Halloran

Jim Halloran, sophomore, is one of the returning swim team members. He handles three events: the 200 yd. butterfly, the 200 yd. breaststroke, and probably the breaststroke in the 400 yd. medley relay. Jim is one of the team's best breaststrokers.

He is a member of the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity, and comes from Savannah, Missouri. He has a P. E. major and a general science minor.

Tanker—Eddie Atkins

Eddie Atkins, a freshman, will swim two events in NW-MSC's first meet of the season: the 220 yd. freestyle and the 440 yd. freestyle.

Ed is from Chillicothe, Missouri, and majoring in pre-optometry. Though presently lacking swim meet experience, he shows fine promise.

Sigma Tau Gammas Capture First Place

During intramural football's final weeks of playing, the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity was the leading organization. In second place was Tau Kappa Epsilon, with Phi Sigma Epsilon and Phi Lambda Chi vying for third place. Final scores will be released later.

Intramural wrestling will begin one week after the end of touch football, followed by the start of intramural basketball a week later.

Anyone interested in entering a team for intramural competition should organize the team and turn in a roster to Dale Cramer, intramural director.

Announcements concerning this will be placed on the bulletin boards, and a meeting of team captains will be called to draw up a schedule.

Christian College Class Has Halloween Party

The college class of the First Christian Church, taught by Miss Bonnie Magill, had a Halloween party, Friday, October 29, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Brown.

A scavenger hunt and games provided the entertainment and refreshments were served.

Joan Simmons and Linda Wilhite assisted Miss Magill with the arrangements for the party.

Late Points Boost Cape

Cape Girardeau State, behind the toe of Terry Dill, made good an extra point attempt to defeat Northwest Missouri 7-6 on Saturday, October 29, at the Bearcat field. The kick followed a third quarter touchdown by Cape's G. W. Dean, who galloped eight yards for his team's only score of the night.

Although Ken Sanders drew first blood by returning a punt 72 yards for Maryville in the second period, the extra point attempt failed.

As time was running out, the Bearcats blew a last chance to win by fumbling on the Indian 14-yard mark.

Teams Handicapped

Both Cape and Maryville had added weight of battling the rain and mud elements. A power shortage in approximately one-third of athletic field's lights also donated much trouble for the entire duration of the contest.

Maryville now holds a 3-4 record in M.I.A.A. play compared to Cape's 2-1 standing.
